"New Visions showed me that business was something I truly wanted to pursue and helped me narrow down my interests to management consulting. I was able to come into college with a level of preparation I didn't see in a lot of my peers, and for that, I will be forever thankful"

~Sarah Young, student at Cornell University

New Visions Business Academy

Our program

This program is for high achieving college-bound seniors who are ready for a challenge and looking to get a step ahead toward a rewarding career. Each morning, students attend classes and work side-by-side with professionals, observing and participating in real-life experiences. They also earn social studies and English credits.

The Business Academy is geared toward students seeking a dynamic and immersive business education in related occupations, such as management, entrepreneurship, human resources, marketing and finance.

Students admitted to New Visions are active in their school community, motivated, mature and reliable young adults.

Highlights

- Students create and operate their own business under the guidelines of the Junior Achievement Company program, which provides firsthand, working knowledge in how to create and run an actual business, working side-by-side with local business professionals. Students earn an actual paycheck and possible bonus money. By participating in this program, students are eligible to apply for an academic scholarship to Syracuse University.
- Students research, develop and write a detailed business plan. Students learn about the core areas of managing personal finances and become experts in Microsoft Office Excel earning certification as specialists.
- The program provides career-focused, real-life experiences through job shadowing opportunities in various business settings that are tailored to the student's interests. A variety of community partners can be utilized in the field of entrepreneurship, finance/investments, marketing, communications, accounting, human resources, management, nonprofit, sports management, healthcare administration, public relations and social media marketing.
