

Tuition Assistance Options

BOCES Adult Programs (with the exception of Practical Nursing) are not eligible for Federal financial aid. Below is a list of tuition assistance options currently available. Applicants seeking tuition assistance for enrollment into job training programs must receive tuition assistance approval before completing the registration process. Each agency has its own guidelines and procedures. Applicants must apply directly to the agency and go through an assessment process. Tuition assistance approval is competitive and not guaranteed. Agencies that provide tuition assistance are not affiliated with BOCES.

GI Bill ® Funding

All BOCES Programs are VA approved. Veterans need to apply through the Veterans' Administration (VA). Applicants will need to provide BOCES with their Certificate of Eligibility (from VA) and their Social Security Number so our fiscal manager can access the VA software and complete the process for approval. The VA pays BOCES directly for tuition under the Post 9/11 GI Bill®.

Veterans New York State School District Funding

New York State Education Law Requires School Districts within the state to fund veterans' enrollment into BOCES programs.

A veteran of any age who has not received a high school diploma and who shall have been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable may attend any of the public schools of the state upon conditions prescribed by the board of education, without payment of tuition.

A veteran of any age who has received a high school diploma and who shall have been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable may attend any of the public schools of the state upon conditions prescribed by the board of education. Such conditions may include a tuition charge.

To apply, go in person to the school district administrative offices of your current residence. You must take your DD214 and proof of residency in the district.

The district will verify your residency and send a letter to BOCES stating the amount of tuition they will pay.

The veteran will be sent an invoice for any balance due.
